

ACCESSIBILITY STATEMENT FOR THEREAFTER

At Thereafter, we are committed to building a platform that is inclusive and accessible to everyone, including individuals with disabilities. As an early stage growing company, we are still in the early phases of incorporating accessibility into our design and development processes.

Our Commitment to Accessibility

We believe accessibility is essential to ensuring that all users can easily access and manage their important information on Thereafter. As our platform evolves, we are dedicated to making improvements that enhance usability and inclusivity for a wide range of users.

Current Accessibility Status

While we are just beginning our accessibility journey, we recognize that there may be barriers that could impact some users. We are actively working to understand these challenges and prioritize them in our development roadmap.

As part of our commitment to accessibility, we plan to:

- Assess our platform to identify and address accessibility barriers.
- Incorporate accessibility best practices into our future updates and features.
- Gather feedback from our users to better understand their needs and challenges.
